RUN DOWN BY A BICYCLE.

A Port Jervis Boy Knocked Down and Badly Cut—A Dangerous Nuisance.

Stephen Outwater, a fourteen-year-old Port Jervis boy, was run down by a bicycle, Friday evening, and received a cut over the eye several inches long, made by the pedal. The owner of the wheel never stopped to ascertain how badly the boy was injured.

The Union makes the following comment, which will apply to Middletown as well as Port Jervis:

The village ordinances prohibit driving within the corporation limits at a speed greater than six miles an hour. The same rule, we presume, would apply to bicycles, but it is habitually disregarded and violated by wheelmen, especially when descending Pike street hill and the other hills of our village.

In one respect bicycles are more dangerous than ordinary conveyances, from the fact that they make no noise and pedestrians have no notice of their approach, except the ringing of the bell, which warning the bicycler usually neglects to give.

A REVERENT DOG.

Attends Prayer Meeting and Rises During the Singing and Bows His Head During Prayer.

An amusing incident occurred at a young people's prayer meeting in one of our churches, last evening, when a large, black dog trotted down the aisle and took his place at the end of one of the pews. He had evidently been trained in a pious family, as he appeared very attentive during the services During the singing he sat up, but as the audience bowed in prayer, he quietly stretched himself on the floor, and placing his head between his paws, remained in this position until the close of the season of prayer No effort was made to induce the strange visitor to leave the church until the close of the service, as those who saw him were too much interested in the exhibition of canine devoutness.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT ST PAUL'S

Dr. Darwood Accuses Ingersoll of False Pretenses—Equality of the Sexes.

While several of our city pastors were attacking Colonel Ingersoll during his recent visit here, Rev. Dr. Darwood was silent on the subject, but he did not propose to entirely miss his opportunity and took his inning, yesterday morning, when he discoursed on "The secure foundation." "Had that bold infidel who recently lectured at the Casino, announced that he would speak on 'There is no God,'' he would not have had a corporal's guard to hear him," said the doctor, "but he came sneaking in here under cover of one of the most magnificent texts in the world—'What must we do to be saved'—to fool the people, and he had plenty of fools to hear him."

In the evening Dr. Darwood spoke on the "Equality of the sexes," but did not discuss the suffrage question as elaborately as he proposes to next Sunday evening.

A Very Singular Accident.

A five-year-old boy named Hogan was standing under an electric light near his home in Binghamton, Saturday evening, when the heavy globe burst and the pieces falling on the boy seriously injured him. All of his front teeth were knocked out, his lower lip was slit down to the chin and a deep gash was cut in his cheek, under the right eye. The lad will probably be disfigured for life.

The Very Meanest Kind of Thieves.

Flower thieves are committing their depredations in Laurel Grove Cemetery, in Port Jervis, much to the annoyance of the owners of plots. One cannot imagine a meaner thief than one who will steal the flowers placed by loving hands on the graves of the dead.

A Pretty Scene at St. Joseph's Church.

A class of seventy-nine, of whom forty were boys and thirty-seven girls, took their first communion at St. Joseph's Church at 9 o'clock mass, yesterday. The girls were dressed in white, wore long white veils and coronets of flowers, and as they marched through the aisles to and from the altar the scene was a pretty one

A Successful Business Trip.

WALDEN.

The Ball Club—Lots of Eggs—Too Many Dogs—A New Restaurant — Personal and Local Notes.

Correspondence Argus and Mercury.

—The Walden base ball club made a hit at Middletown, Thursday, 17th. The boys put up a good game up to the seventh inning, the score then being 2 to 1 in favor of the Asylums. It seems that the home club had had but little practice. Before the season is out they will be hot company for a number of the crack clubs. They play a Brooklyn club on Decoration Day

—John Edmunds gave the people here a scare by bringing ninety dozen eggs to market, Thursday. He says his hens lay continually until a certain number of eggs is obtained. They are, no doubt, more expensive than a couple of hens sold by a hotel keeper for $1.75 one evening last week.

—There has been a "dog slaughter" man in Newburgh, and a blessing it would be if he should determine to visit Waldens. Everybody has a "pup" and some people have eight or ten. A heavy dog tax would act as effectually as a dose of poison.

—Chas. Dillon, formerly of the Wallkill House, Wallkill, has hired a room in the Fowler building, and will open a restaurant. Mr. Dillon has built up an excellent reputation as a landlord throughout the Wallkill Valley, and we feel confident that he will make a success of this new undertaking. Meals will be served at all hours and those who give him a call will not go away sorrowful. He opens Decoration Day.

—James H. McKinney, formerly of this village, but now located in Newburgh, was in town on Friday.

—Mrs. Benedict is visiting friends at Newburgh.

—Joshua Bottemley, who started out over two weeks ago with a cutlery shop on wheels, is located at Goshen. He reports business good.

—Clem Buntin is making a canvass for books in Goshen.

—Is our village license law constitutional? Two men who came here from New York peddling powder and cologne were held up and made to take out a license after much talk. They claim that the license act is unconstitutional.

LACKAWACK

At Grand View Track—Preparing for Summer Guests—The Excelsior Mill—Home Again—Big Trout.

Correspondence Argus and Mercury

—Thomas Shiels is visiting Lackawack, and is driving some of his fast horses over his Grand View Driving Park.

—John Shiels is getting ready for summer guests, by giving his house a coat of paint and making other improvements. He anticipates having a big season.

—C. N. Morse is about to commence framing the timber for his new excelsior mill. The mill has been very much missed since it was burned, last Thanksgiving morning. We are in hopes to see it running again before the leaves fall.

—Reuben Lake is back from Grand Rapids, Mich., where he has been visiting friends. He has a new leg, and will soon be able to throw away his crutches.

—Several large trout, some three pounders, have been caught in our streams, this spring.

A Four-Legged Duckling.

Mr. M. H Carey found a curiosity in his chicken house this morning. He had set a hen on duck eggs and as the term of incubation expired last night, he looked into the nest, this morning, and found that every egg had hatched, and that one of the ducklings had four legs. The two extra legs are in rear of the natural legs, are somewhat smaller than the others and evidently not intended for use in locomotion. The duck is as lively as any in the brood.

The Erie's Freight Business.

Freight business on the Erie is fairly good. One thousand freight cars are moved east every day, but fewer crews are required to move them, owing to the fact that much longer trains are run than formerly, the average train now containing forty cars as compared with twenty-five or thirty under the old system.

Good News.

No other Medicine in the world was ever given such a test of its curative qualities, as Otto's Cure. Thousands of bottles of this great German remedy are being distributed FREE OF CHARGE, by druggists in this country, to those afflicted with Consumption, Asthma, Croup, severe Coughs, Pneumonia and all Throat and Lung diseases, giving the people proof that Otto's Cure will cure them and that it is the grandest triumph of Medical science. For sale only by John J. Chambers, 21 West Main street, opp. Runyon's grocery. Samples free. Large bottles 50c and 25c.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cures in one to three days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause, and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits. Seventy-five cents. Sold by J. E. Mills, druggist, Middletown.

THE RECORDER'S BUSY MORNING

Six Prisoners at the Bar—Four Pay Fines of $18, Two Go to Jail.

The Recorder did a land office business, this morning, having no less than four drunks and two fighters before him. John Collins and Wm McCarter were arrested on East avenue, Saturday night, where they were settling a dispute with their fists. Each was fined $5 with the alternative of 10 days in jail. They paid the fines. Thomas Claffey and Wm. Smith were picked up by the police for intoxication. The former paid $3 and the latter paid $5 into the city treasury.

Corbin Barnes and Daniel Collins were either unable or unwilling to pay their $5 and $3 fines, so went to Goshen for ten days, to repent of over indulgence in the flowing "schooner" or the too often rushed "growler."

A British Steamer Wrecked.

ST. JOHNS N. F., May 21—The British steamer Califro Captain Storm, which left Sunderland eight days ago for Baltimore, went ashore at Horse Cove, near Baccalieu Island, about fifty miles north of this place. The vessel is bilged, her port side is stove in, rudder and propeller are lost, is a total wreck, and is nearly full of water The crew escaped in the boats

ASSASSINATED BY STRIKERS

A Working Miner Riddled with Bullets at His Own Door.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 21—The striking miners at the Pratt mines are held responsible for a cowardly assassination, which occurred at that place yesterday. A mob of masked men went to the house of Walter Glover a miner who had refused to strike, and called him out, telling him they were officers and desired to see him. When he opened his door a volley was fired Glover's body was riddled with bullets, and he died instantly His bed, wherein slept several children was also riddled, but the children escaped by fleeing from the house

The mob then fled closely pursued by Deputy Sheriffs Hickman and Massey who were armed with rifles A running fight followed for half a mile One of the murderers fell evidently wounded, but the others lifted him up, and the entire party escaped to the woods When Sheriff Morrow arrived with reinforcements he arrested Con Sullivan Jerry Hillery and John Driver, three strikers, who were brought here to jail Dogs that were placed on the murderers trail aided in locating the men who were arrested Other arrests will follow, as there were a dozen or more men in the mob Great excitement prevails at Pratt mines The strikers are highly indignant over the arrest of the three men and held an indignation meeting last evening Further trouble is feared

A Wholesale Murder Sensation Spoiled.

YREKA, Cal., May 21—The cloud which has hung over George Decker, the Yreka rancher, has been cleared up by the arrival of his wife and daughter Twenty-seven years ago Decker's wife and young daughter left Yreka and shortly afterward he obtained a divorce. About two weeks ago some boys found a heap of bones in a cave and the citizens of the community jumped to the conclusion that they were the remains of Decker's wife and baby Decker was arrested and accused of murdering nearly every person in the vicinity who had died suddenly or disappeared for a number of years Decker's attorney found the wife and daughter living in Colusa, not 200 miles away, totally ignorant of his peril

Strikers Will Fight a Mine Fire.

SPRING VALLEY, Ills., May 21.—The French miners of this city have given their consent to allow fifteen men to work in No 1 mine at the fire The miners here are mainly French, with a sprinkling of Germans, Belgians and Italians They are nearly all of anarchistic tendencies and last September carried the red flag in a parade upon the streets on Labor Day, trailing the United States flag in the dust. They were hooting and yelling near the shaft when Superintendent Stone came upon the scene He appealed to their better natures, and the men finally quieted down and said they would allow fifteen men to go down and work The fire has got considerable headway

Old Enough to Know Better.

BALTIMORE, May 21—Mr Nehemiah Berryman, 75 years old, a prominent farmer near Reisterstown, was victimized by three monte men to the extent of $1,000 A man called at Mr Berryman's house and pretended that he wanted to buy the farm He took Mr Berryman out in a buggy to look at the land, and while they were driving along the road they were met by a man who said he was from Virginia The box game was then worked Mr. Berryman was allowed to win the supposed $2,000, which was put in the box and given him As the strangers departed he opened the box to get his winning, but found only waste paper

Powderly's Expulsion from the Knights.

SCRANTON, Pa., May 21—T. V. Powderly was seen at his home here last night by an Associated Press reporter, who was the first to carry to the ex-general master workman of the Knights of Labor the report of his expulsion from that order by the general executive committee. Mr Powderly denied the truth of the report, and said that the laws of the Knights of Labor provide that no member can be dismissed without being first given a trial at which to prove his innocence of the charges against him Mr. Powderly said that he had not advocated the absorption of the Knights of Labor by the Federation of Labor

Mine Strikers Determined.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 21—All is quiet at the Keystone mine The strikers are as determined as ever, however, and say that the company cannot coerce them into returning to work President Brown says the colliery will resume operations with new hands, and if the local authorities are unable to cope with the strikers he shall insist on the governor giving him ample protection

Pennsylvania Republicans Gathering.

HARRISBURG, May 21—The hotels are beginning to fill up with visitors to the city to attend Wednesday's state Republican convention Two of the candidates, Congressman Robinson, of Delaware, who wants to be lieutenant governor, and Giles D Price, of Erie, an aspirant for auditor general, have arrived and opened headquarters, and the others are expected before night

[illegible] this exhibition are Mrs. Robert B. Potter, Mrs. H. Winthrop Gray, Mrs. John A. Lowery, Mrs. Charles de Rham, Mrs. J. Hobart Warren and Mrs. Adolf Ladenburg. The selection of the pictures will be in the hands of a committee of well known artists.

It is believed that the novelty of such an exhibition, in addition to its artistic merits, will insure its success. There are in New York many valuable portraits of women. Some of them are by American artists and some of them were painted abroad. So long as the subject is an American woman the painting may be hung in this loan collection. Already the announcement of such an exhibition has aroused interest, and it is intended to make it a social success. Mrs. Lowery said last night:

"We propose to have the exhibition during the week of the horse show, for then there are many people in town who would be interested in such an exhibition. There are many fine portraits of handsome women here, and I think that such an exhibition will attract attention and benefit our charities. It is impossible yet to give any details about the paintings that will be exhibited. That rests with the artists who are on the hanging committee, and of course it is too early for them to begin their work."—New York Sun.

—Mr. August [illegible], of [illegible], is visiting [illegible].

—[illegible]

—Mrs. E. P. Carpenter and daughter, [illegible], of Jersey City, arrived in this city, Saturday, to visit friends.

—The young son of Mr. John Ryerson, of Wawayanda, who has been seriously sick with dysentery for the past week, is improving.

—Rev. J. P. McClancy will celebrate to-morrow, the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood.

HE CUT THE KNOT QUICKLY

Judge Brown Tried a Divorce Case and Granted a Decree in Less than Fifteen Minutes.

From the Newburgh Register.

An unusual occurrence in Judge Brown's court was the trying of a divorce case in public. It came from Middletown, Mr. Charles G. Dill being the attorney in the case. The suit was entitled, Jennie B. Barnes vs. John E. Barnes, and was brought for an absolute divorce with alimony. The plaintiff appeared in court with her daughter Etha, aged ten years, Mrs. Anna Osborn, the co-respondent in the case, and Miss Annie Young, who had been employed for some time in the family as a domestic.

Mrs. Barnes is a woman of probably thirty-one years of age, petite and of pleasing appearance. She was attired in black, and her large blue eyes snapped as [illegible] testimony. Mrs. Osborn, the co-respondent, is of medium height, passably good looking, her jet black eyes adding not a little to her attractiveness. She was attired in black, with a red and white striped shirt waist, that gave her a natty appearance. She is twenty years of age, has been married, but does not live with her husband, who resides at Vernon, N. J. Mrs. Osborn says the cause of the parting was a failure to agree. She was married at the age of sixteen years.

Miss Annie Young, the domestic in the family of the [illegible], was not so handsome as the other ladies, but she knew a thing or two that helped the case along.

Barnes, the defendant, is a [illegible] at Middletown, and is said to be doing a good business. [illegible] He was not present in court.

[illegible] Mrs. Barnes [illegible] New York city. It was while she was [illegible] that the acts complained of were committed at the house of the family on Highland avenue, Middletown.

Mrs. Osborn unblushingly admitted the truth of the charges made, and told her story without a break.

[illegible] clothed and educated for $6 per week.

Judge Brown granted the [illegible] in quick order. [illegible] with custody of child and [illegible] per week alimony.

The [illegible] says that the three women, Miss Young, Mrs. Osborn and Mrs. Barnes, after the trial was over, [illegible] knew of the events of the day.

The Next [illegible] Meeting.

The next meeting under the auspices of the Universalist Church will be held in the Assembly Rooms, Thursday evening, 24th inst., at 8 o'clock, when the Rev. I. Smith Dodge, D. D., will conduct the service. All are welcome.

The North Street Pavement

A special meeting of the Common Council will be held, this evening, to open and consider bids for the paving of North street with asphalt from Franklin Square to the Erie tracks and with brick from the latter point to Wickham avenue. Several bids have been received.

A VERY SUDDEN DEATH.

Mrs. Maria Hill Found Dead in Her Bed at Midnight by Her [illegible] Granddaughter—Heart Disease the Cause of Death.

Mrs. Maria Hill, a colored woman [illegible] day, but in the evening complained of not feeling well, but after taking some medicine she had in the house, declared that she felt better, and went to bed at the usual hour.

About midnight, the little girl, who slept with her, awoke and found that she could not rouse her. She at once called to the neighbors for help and when Mr. Decker and others reached Mrs. Hill's rooms they found her dead. The body was still warm showing that she had died only a short time before her little granddaughter discovered her condition.

Coroner Decker was not notified until this morning, and at once visited the house in company with Dr. Pillsbury. The latter decided that the woman died of heart disease, and the coroner issued a certificate of death, without holding an inquest.

Mrs. Hill was an industrious, hard working woman, who always retained the respect and good will of the many families by whom she had been employed in this city.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Chauncey B. Anderson.

Mrs. Chauncey B. Anderson, widow of a former well known Erie engineer, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Marshall Cassidy, in Newton, Friday, of cancer, from which she had suffered a long time. She was about fifty years old.

Her remains were taken to Port Jervis, and interred beside those of her husband, in Laurel Grove Cemetery.

Katharine Ayres.

Miss Katharine Ayres, an inmate of the Old Ladies' Home, to which she was admitted a few months ago, died there, at 4 o'clock, yesterday morning, of Bright's disease, aged seventy-three years.

[illegible] The funeral will be from the Home [illegible] Rev. Dr. [illegible] will conduct the service.

Archibald A. Corley.

Archibald A. Corley died at the residence of his son, Joseph E. Corley, [illegible], yesterday [illegible] and the cause of death was general debility.

Mr. Corley was a [illegible] resident of Middletown for about fifty years. [illegible]

He is survived by his son, Joseph E., [illegible] with whom he lived and by a daughter, [illegible].

ON THE CHARTER AMENDMENT.

[illegible] this morning, received from Albany a certified copy of the amendment to the city charter passed by the last Legislature and which [illegible] became a law by the Governor's signature.

As has been previously stated, the [illegible] the Common Council the power to [illegible] money for the general expenses of the city, such as [illegible], lighting, police and salaries of officials, etc., not to exceed $[illegible] and levy a tax for same. The council is also required to place in the tax levy the requisition of the Board of Education, interest charges and amount required for the sinking fund. If the council should find it necessary to appropriate the full amount permitted and add the requisition of the Board of Education,—which is over $27,000 this year—and interest charges and sinking fund, it will be seen that the annual budget will be close on to $70,000, without any of the many special appropriations asked for.

Last year the total tax levy was $[illegible] and it will remain with the council to say whether there shall be any special appropriations this year or whether the tax rate shall be increased or reduced.

The responsibility is now placed where it belongs and can no longer be shifted upon the people, and, thanks to the Argus' agitation for a secret ballot, whatever sums the taxpayers may appropriate hereafter will be done deliberately by their own votes, and not rushed through by a crowd of claquers as in days of yore, when taxpayers had but little to say about the matter.

AT THE COUNTY SEAT.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN GOSHEN.

Shut Down for Want of Coal—The Welcome Rain—Removal—Owl Cyclers in the Rain—Tickets for the Musical Festival.

From our regular correspondent.

—The scarcity of soft coal, caused by the miners' strike, is being felt in this village. The Pierce Iron Works have been obliged to shut down for want of fuel and the electric light plant has used up all the stock it had on hand and is now using small hard coal in the furnace.

—The welcome rain has supplied a long felt want and has been of incalculable value to all growing things.

—Orange Lodge, I. O. O. F., will work the third degree to-morrow night.

—Jas. Vreeland and family have removed from Mrs. A. S. Murray's house on Main street to the Tuthill house on Montgomery street.

—Seven members of the Owl Cycle Club, of Elizabeth, N. J., passed through town, yesterday. They took dinner at the St. Elmo. They were rain-drenched and mud-spattered and their forlorn appearance showed that the ways of wheelmen are not always ways of pleasantness.

—Reserved seat tickets for the musical festival of the Goshen Vocal Society are on sale at C. M. Millspaugh's at a dollar each. A large number have already been taken, but a number of desirable seats are still left.

ORANGE COUNTY TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Semi-annual Meeting at Port Jervis on Saturday.

The semi-annual meeting of the Orange County Teachers' Association was held at the Academy at Port Jervis, Saturday. The officers of the association are:

President—James F. Tuthill, Middletown.

Vice-President—F. M. Wilson, Goshen.

Secretary—J. E. Burrows, Washingtonville.

Treasurer—Miss E. C. Brownell, Port Jervis.

Superintendent Tuthill, of Middletown, presided at the morning session but was called home at noon and his place was taken by Superintendent Dolph, who presided at the afternoon session.

J. E. Burrows, of Washingtonville, performed the duties of Secretary. Upwards of 80 teachers from various parts of Orange county were in attendance.

Principals William A. Wilson, of Middletown, F. E. Hughes, of Port Jervis, and Mr. W. D. Moulton were appointed the committee on place of next meeting, and resolutions.

A paper on "Arithmetic" was then read by Miss [illegible] Cooper, of Middletown. It was a very instructive paper and the writer has very clear ideas on the proper teaching of that very important study. She evidently has had much practical experience in teaching the young idea in that direction.

Principal W. E. Wilson, of Wallkill Academy, this city, read an admirable paper on the study of English as a preparation for the study of Latin.

Mr. Earl P. Haynes, a teacher in the Middletown schools and a recent graduate of Cornell, read a paper on alcoholic stimulants in teaching physiology, in which he took the ground that the physiological effects of alcohol were of little importance as compared with the moral and social effects, and the physiology of the subject was too intricate for common school instruction. The paper excited criticism and a lively discussion followed. Supt. Dolph thought the full physiological effects could not be traced, yet the child could be led to understand that alcohol is a poison. Sec'y. Burrows, Prin. Wilson and Prin. Moulton, of Unionville, took part in the debate.

The discussion on attendance was opened by Miss Emily Brownell and Mr. J. C. [illegible], of Greenwood Lake, Messrs. Burrows, Hughes and Moulton took part.

A RETIRED BUSINESS WOMAN.

A Page From Her History.

The important experiences of others are interesting. The following is no exception: "I had been troubled with heart disease 25 years, much of that time very seriously. For five years I was treated by one physician continuously. I was in business, but obliged to retire on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a month. My feet and limbs were badly swollen, and I was indeed in a serious condition when a gentleman directed my attention to Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and said that his sister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been cured by the remedy, and was again a strong, healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could feel a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could move my ankles, something I had not done for months and my limbs had been swollen so long that they seemed almost petrified. Before I had taken one bottle of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own work. On my recommendation six others are using this valuable remedy."—Mrs. Morgan, [illegible] W. Harrison St., Chicago, Ill.

GLADSTONE FAILING FAST.

The Grand Old Man Has Aged Many Years In the Last Three Months.

Those who feared that his retirement from public life would bring upon Mr. Gladstone just the evils which he designed to avoid are beginning to find their judgment justified. The Grand Old Man has aged many years in the past three months. The picture he made at the Dr. Andrew Clark memorial meeting was a pitiful one. He was a feeble, bent octogenarian, who leaned upon a stout stick even when addressing the audience from his chair. His words were brave, polished, well chosen and appropriate. Not a shadow has yet crossed his shining intellect, but both flesh and spirit are breaking. He is not ill. No specific malady is undermining his marvelous vitality, but a great change, which his grieving friends cannot fail to recognize, is making rapid progress.

He has lost interest in life. That is ominous. For 60 years he found rest in other forms of activity and peace in new struggles. Work has been his only recreation. Fresh responsibilities never failed to renew his vigor. His friends are beginning to understand now what Sir Andrew Clark saw clearly—that for such a man to fold his hands means despair and death.

Every effort will be made now to provide the warrior statesman with tasks and ambitions sufficiently important to keep alive that energy which craves and feeds upon what in most men would destroy it. If his enthusiasm can be revived, he may remain many days a figure of which the nation will be most proud. If not, then nothing can long delay the end.

The most remarkable effect of Mr. Gladstone's retirement has been clearly emphasized in connection with his first public appearance. His enemies have already become his friends. He has completely ceased to be a partisan figure in English politics.—London Cor. New York Sun.

SHE FOOLED THE BAILIFF.

Dora Donegan Gives an Exhibition of Her Dexterity as a Thief.

Dora Donegan, one of the most skillful thieves known to the police, gave an exhibition of her art Monday morning at the Harrison Street police station, which gave Bailiff Vogel a still greater opinion of her dexterity. She had been arrested in pursuance of a standing order given by Chief Brennan to lock her up on sight and was arraigned before Justice Foster. She was discharged, as there was no evidence against her. Before leaving the courtroom she stopped to chat with the bailiff.

"You are pretty clever, Dora," said Vogel, "but if all men were as hard to rob as I would be you'd have to do something else for a living."

"Oh, some day some one will fool you, too," said Dora.

The two stood talking for a few minutes, and then the woman left the room. Shortly afterward Bailiff Vogel found that his diamond scarfpin was missing. In an excited manner he called the attention of several officers to his loss, and they began to search the room, as the bailiff thought it had dropped from his scarf to the floor somewhere. While they were engaged in the search the Donegan woman approached Vogel and said:

"Have you found your pin?"

"No," replied Vogel.

"Well, here it is," said the woman. "Be careful next time when you brag about yourself. I just wanted to show you that you would be an easy mark," and she went away laughing.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

SILVER DOLLARS SCARCE.

A Bet Which Proved an Unexpected State of Affairs In Washington.

A party of gentlemen were discussing the financial conditions a couple of days ago when one of them remarked upon the unusual scarcity of silver dollars in circulation in Washington. He stated that it was difficult to meet a person who had a silver dollar in his pocket, whereas a few months ago the cart wheels were more plentiful than the paper securities. His assertion was questioned by one of his companions, whereupon he remarked that he would be willing to make a wager of the cigars to prove it.

"I will bet," he remarked, "that you cannot within one hour meet a man whom you know who has a silver dollar in his pocket."

The other, who had an extremely large acquaintance, eagerly accepted the gage and took up a position down at the corner of Fifteenth and F streets. Every friend and acquaintance who came along was requested to exchange a silver dollar for four quarters. Scores of $1 bills were pulled out of pedestrians' pockets, but the man with the change wanted only the dollar of his daddies. At the end of the hour he paid for the cigars, because he found not a man in his quest who had a hard dollar in his pocket. I don't know the reason for the scarcity of such coin, but its existence is beyond doubt.—Washington Star.

Declined Her Services.

Since the death of M. Boutquin the dapper old gentleman who invariably wore a silk hat and carried an umbrella when discharging his official duties, Brussels has been deprived of the services of a public executioner. M. de Liege has kindly acted as a stopgap during the interregnum. Last week his cooperation was requested by the authorities. At the appointed hour a stout, middle aged lady presented herself and quietly remarked to the assembled functionaries:

"I've come for the execution. My husband is not well this morning and asked me to take his place. Please let us get to business."

The general stupefaction was intensified when she added in a reassuring tone, "This is not by any means the first time."

However, the authorities refused to avail themselves of her offer and meanly declined to pay her expenses.—Brussels Exchange.

SUPREME Court, Orange county—Thomas Burke and John Quirk, plaintiffs, against Walter A. Burke, William D. Steele and Joseph Dardano, defendants. In pursuance and by virtue of a judgment of foreclosure and sale duly made and entered in the above entitled action, dated the 19th day of May, 1894, and entered in the office of the Clerk of the county of Orange, on the 19th day of May, 1894, I, the undersigned, the Referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the Russell House, a hotel kept by E. A. Brown & Son, on James street, in the city of Middletown, Orange county, New York, on the 9th day of June, 1894, at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day, the lands and premises in said judgment mentioned and therein described as follows:

All that tract or parcel of land, situate in the city of Middletown, county of Orange, and State of New York, it being the north half of two certain lots of land designated on a map of certain lands owned by Messrs. Wheeler, Madden & Bakewell, and which map was made by W. W. Reeve in July, 1856, as lots 12 and 13, and more particularly described as follows: Beginning on the northerly corner of lot No. 13, which is the westerly corner of a lot designated on said map as lot No. 14, and running thence southeasterly along said lot No. 14 ninety feet; thence southwesterly on a line parallel with Cottage street sixty feet; thence northwesterly ninety feet to the southeasterly line of Cottage street; thence along said line of Cottage street sixty feet to the place of beginning, as described in a deed from John Eppinger, of Middletown, N. Y., and Anna M., his wife, to Walter A. Burke, of the township of Dunmore, Pa., dated April 1st, 1873, and recorded in Orange county records for deeds liber [illegible], at page 131, April 3d, 1873.

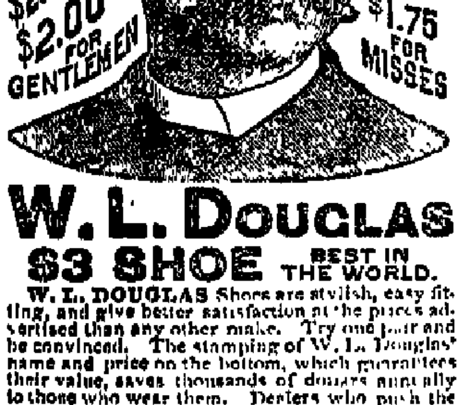
CAUTION.—If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas Shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without name stamped on bottom, put him down as a fraud.



W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE BEST IN THE WORLD.

W. L. DOUGLAS Shoes are stylish, easy fitting, and give better satisfaction at the prices advertised than any other make. Try one pair and be convinced. The stamping of W. L. Douglas' name and price on the bottom, which guarantees their value, saves thousands of dollars annually to those who wear them. Dealers who push the sale of W. L. Douglas Shoes gain customers, which helps to increase the sales on their full line of goods. They can afford to sell at a less profit, and we believe you can save money by buying all your footwear of the dealer advertised below. Catalogue free upon application. Address, W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass. Sold by Postal Savings Banks.

The postal savings bank system, which is already the most popular form of investment in England, has been brought to still higher perfection. All accounts are kept in the central office in London, and withdrawals are possible only after sending notice there. The new arrangement for telegraphic drafts is now so perfect that depositors in the neighborhood of London can collect their money at the branch postoffice within 40 minutes, or in the most distant parts of the kingdom within an hour of making the demand. The new facilities are already leading to a great increase in the amount of deposits.—London Standard.

Alexander's Cheerless Lot.

Young King Alexander of Servia's existence is not very cheerful for a lad of 17. He rises at 7 o'clock and goes out riding. Returning, he reads the newspapers—three German and seven French journals—and then gives audiences from 10 to 1. The afternoon is spent in more audiences and transacting state business, with the exception of a short drive. At 5 the king presides at a ministerial council. Dinner follows, and by 11 the lights are out in the palace.—Belgrade Letter.

A Congressman's Philosophy.

After the vote in the house unseating Mr. Hilborn of California his friends gathered around him in the cloakroom to extend to him their sympathy and good will. "Well, Hilborn," said one of them, "you are certain to come back again, so you ought not to feel bad."

"Yes," said Mr. Hilborn in his dry way, "we all cherish the Christian belief in the resurrection, but I don't think that entirely reconciles us to death."—Washington Post.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr Samuel Pitcher That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless!

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. is on every wrapper.

CHANGING HIS MIND.

Mr. Quaggles Comes Back From the Edge of the Grave.

Mr. Quaggles declared he felt extremely ill. He didn't know what was the matter with him, but he graphically said that he was at death's door and could hear the handle being turned the other side to give him admittance. Mr. Quaggles wouldn't see a doctor. He had a peculiar aversion to doctors, especially to their bills. Some people were unkind enough to say that Mr. Quaggles "put on" his illness.

One day Mrs. Quaggles found a little pamphlet which had been thrust under the front door that had been issued by a firm of patent medicine venders, wherein the symptoms of various ailments were minutely described. After perusing it she took it to her husband and said:

"Thomas, you can find out what is the matter with you by reading this little book."

"Reading that!" exclaimed Mr Quaggles contemptuously "Why, my symptoms wouldn't go in a few pages like that It would take three volumes to describe 'em. However," he added, "you can read some symptoms to me Jemima I don't feel equal to doing it myself," and he leaned back in his armchair, sighing heavily. "My gracious, I do feel bad!" he moaned.

So Mrs Quaggles began.

"'Pain in back and under shoulder blades frequent headaches principally over eyes'"

"That's me!" groaned Mr Quaggles

"Yes, that's you, Thomas," assented Mrs Quaggles and went on, "Depressed and languid feeling; burning of the palms of the hands and soles of the feet'"

"Me again You could cook a steak on mine," declared Mr Quaggles

"'Aversion to physical exercise' That's you, Thomas," declared his wife "You're frightfully lazy"

"No, no Jemima, that's not me," dissented the invalid. "I'm not a bit lazy, only my poor, feeble body won't let me take any exercise Go on, Jemima. Your voice puts me in mind of the 'Dead March In Saul'"

"'Unpleasant dreams,'" continued Mrs Quaggles

"Rather! Why, I have such awful dreams that I believe they lift some of the hair off my head every night That's why I m getting so bald," he said mournfully. "Oh dear! Oh! dear!" And Mr Quaggles suddenly started out of his chair and grasped the top of his head

"Whatever's the matter, Thomas?" asked his wife alarmedly.

"Why, I had a pain shoot right up from my big toe to the top of my head."

"Good gracious, what a long pain!" exclaimed Mrs Quaggles "You're over six feet you know, Thomas!"

"Yes, and it ain't finished yet. It keeps coiling round and round my head," groaned Mr Quaggles "Doesn't it give that symptom, Jemima?"

"No I can't find anything about the sea serpent," giggled Mrs Quaggles "That's what you must have inside you."

"Jemima" said her husband reproachfully, "is this a time for heartless levity, when here I am with one foot in the grave and the other one slipping down the side of it? What do all these terrible symptoms point to? Is my heart going to drop to pieces, are my lungs going to burst, or what?"

"Liver, Thomas! It's your liver that's wrong, so far as I can make out."

"Ah, I thought so! That's why I can't eat. There's no room for food in me. The space is all occupied by my liver. It has, so to say, taken the whole house instead of living in one apartment, as it ought to do. I tell you, Jemima, I've got enough liver to go with a side of bacon, and then there would be some left to eat cold alone. I'm doomed, dear I'll make my will at once, though it is but little I have to leave. You had better go round to the undertaker and get an estimate for a funeral—a plain one, you know—and"——

There was a tap at the door, and the servant entered with a letter for her master.

Mr Quaggles took it languidly, but had only read a few words when he jumped up and began to execute a war dance.

"What's the matter, Thomas? Is it that long pain again?" anxiously inquired Mrs. Quaggles.

"No, no! What do you think? Poor old Uncle James is dead and has left me £5,000!"

"You don't mean to say so? How good of him to die—I mean to leave you £5,000! But, Thomas, what a pity it has arrived too late!"

"Arrived too late! What do you mean, Jemima?"

"Why, ain't you just going to die, Thomas?"

"I don't know that I am. I can change my mind if I like, can't I?" asked Mr. Quaggles somewhat indignantly.

"But how can you possible live with that awful liver of yours?" persisted his wife.

"Liver be banged!" exclaimed Mr. Quaggles. "If £5,000 won't cure it, it isn't worthy to be called a liver. I tell you, Jemima, I'm—£5,000—going to—fancy, £5,000—get well right away! Whoop! Five thousand pounds!"

And strange to say—or perhaps not strange to say—Mr. Quaggles recovered with marvelous rapidity. He is now one of the healthiest and happiest men in the United Kingdom. Even that "long pain" has gone!—Tit-Bits.

Gallant.

A really polite Frenchman can be complimentary in the face of unkind remarks.

Such a man, who had been bestowing upon a lady many compliments, asked her why she kept a large and apparently savage dog which had just entered the room

"I bought him only yesterday," she answered flippantly, "and I am going to keep him in my front hall to eat up my admirers"

"Ah, ze poor animal," exclaimed the Frenchman, "to die of indigestion!"—Youth's Companion

SHOTS HERE AND THERE.

AN "ARGUS" MAN OFF DUTY AIMS AT SEVERAL SUBJECTS.

Many Canvassers for Nursery Orders—Why So Many Are in the Business—Thoughtless School Girls Crowd the Sidewalks—Bad Manners.

This city and the country roundabout are literally overrun with canvassers for fruit trees and other nursery stock. I am told by a gentleman, who is in a position to know, that at least a dozen men who are engaged in this business make their headquarters in this city. One of these men, who found that in this city he was going over ground that had been gone over by several other canvassers, determined to strike out into the country, last week, and started in at Slate Hill, only to find that that section had been worked by two canvassers. I am told by a farmer living north of this city that within the past three weeks no less than four nursery agents have called at his house.

The explanation of this unusual activity in this branch of business is not that demand for nursery stock is greater than it has been, but that many persons, unable to obtain other employment, have procured the gorgeous books, in which nursery men portray fruits, berries, shrubs and flowers, such as never grew even in nurseries, and with them are endeavoring to convince the public that there is pleasure and profit in store for those who are wise enough to order trees and shrubs from them.

A gentleman said to the writer a day or two ago: "If you should have occasion to go down William street after school is dismissed, you will find it almost impossible to make your way along the sidewalk. Young ladies, who should know better, dispute your right of way by coming up in columns of fours and you must either take to the gutter or be ungallant enough to jostle the ladies, which, of course, no gentleman will do, no matter how great the provocation. This may be thoughtlessness, lack of good manners, or it may be pure cussedness, but in any case it is not creditable to young ladies and you might do them a kindness by suggesting that, to be ladies in all that the word implies, they should learn to respect the rights of others."

I make the suggestion as requested and take the liberty of adding that it is my opinion that the fault complained of is due wholly to thoughtlessness. Young girls, just released from the school room, after a day of hard study, may be pardoned if, in the first few minutes after gaining their liberty, they forget for the moment some of the ordinary courtesies of life, and cling together in groups, talking over the day's experiences, regardless of passers-by. But, as these same young girls must soon enter upon the serious duties of life, it may be to their profit to consider kindly the criticism of the gentleman above quoted, for it is true as he says, that the underlying principle of true gentility is regard for the rights and feelings of others.

In this connection I may add that the young girls who attend the public schools are not the only offenders in this respect. One has only to go upon the street of an evening to find many persons who have passed the school age, who are as reckless of the rights of others as the smallest school boy or girl in town. If you are walking with your wife or any other lady, you are liable to be confronted—on a narrow sidewalk, with two or three young men, or a young man and two young ladies, or, possibly, two of each and naturally you step aside and expect the supposed gentlemen to do the same, so as to give the ladies of each party an opportunity to pass, but the chances are that the trio or quartette will forge ahead and crowd your wife or friend into the gutter. This is not thoughtlessness, but ill manners.

COUNTY COURT AND COURT OF SESSIONS.

Opening of the May Term at Goshen—Call of the Calendar—Prisoners Arraigned "Dote" Godfrey's Case Over Till September—Other Criminal Business.

The May term of the County Court and Court of Sessions began at the Court House in Goshen, this morning, Hon. John J. Beattie, County Judge, presiding. Justices of Session Henry VanDuzer and James Cronan, of Tuxedo, were also present.

There was a large attendance of lawyers, litigants and witnesses. The call of the civil calendar showed the following disposition of cases.

SETTLED.

Murphy vs. Inwegen; Nugent vs. Manning.

ARGUMENT.

Miller & Son vs. Kramp; Johnson vs. Ellen; Smith vs. Whitbeck, et al; Jones vs. Jones; Emery vs. Martin; (brief to be submitted).

OVER

Lamereaux vs. Van Cleft; Hogan vs. Ritter; Garrison vs. Chadsey.

READY.

Creegan vs. Robertson; McMahon vs. Herneit; Johnson vs. Mills; Kimball vs. Brown, Jr.; Hennessey vs. Wood (Monday 28th inst.); Quick vs. Krempf (motion to dismiss appeal).

Lockwood vs. Waldorf (motion to amend complaint).

The first case brought to the attention of the court was the appeal of Michael Maxey, from a conviction of assault in the second degree, and the sentence of a fine of $12.50, upon the ground of a prior conviction of the same offense and the payment of a fine of $2, before Justice E. C. Carpenter of Highlands. Decision reserved.

District Attorney Hirschberg then arraigned Theo. W. Godfrey, of Middletown, to plead to an indictment charging him with forgery in the second degree. Herbert Gedney, Esq., in behalf of the prisoner pleaded not guilty, and asked for an adjournment of the case and permission to change the plea. With the consent of the court and District Attorney, the case went over to the September term.

John Clayton, arraigned upon two indictments for assault in the first degree, alleged to have been committed in the town of Newburgh, March 1st, upon the persons of Edward Tierney and Michael Walsh pleaded not guilty. The court appointed J. F. Bradner, Esq., of this city, to defend him, and after consultation with the prisoner, the plea was changed to guilty of assault in the third degree upon the person of Michael Walsh. The District Attorney agreed to accept the plea, but said he would hold the indictment for assault upon Tierney, as a guarantee of the prisoner's future good behavior.

John Reed, of Paterson, N. J., indicted for burglary in the third degree for breaking into a weighing machine at the Tuxedo station of the Erie and taking the contents thereof, $2.14, pleaded not guilty, but entered a plea of guilty of petty larceny through his counsel, W. H. Wyker, Esq., who was assigned to defend him. The Court and District Attorney accepted the plea and the prisoners were taken back to the jail.

The case of Christopher Boyce indicted for assault in the second degree, which was left over from the last term of court, was again carried over to the September term and the bail fixed at $500.

This afternoon Reed was sentenced to six months in Albany penitentiary and Clayton to a year in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $150.

Benjamin Baker in jail on a peace warrant was discharged by order of the court.

Court adjourned until Wednesday morning.

THE PRESIDENT COMING TO MIDDLETOWN.

The Sick May Receive Medical Services Free of Charge.

The President and members of the European and American Staff of German, English, Irish, Scandinavian and American Doctors of New York city will be at the Russell House, Middletown, on one day only. The sick and afflicted may consult them without charge during their stay.

If you are incurable they will tell you; therefore invalids must not take offence if they are rejected, as no case will be accepted unless there is a moral certainty of a cure being effected. These Doctors are graduates of the best universities of Europe and America; they are of the highest standing in the medical profession and have had unlimited experience in the treatment of all Chronic Diseases and Deformities. As the latest methods, instruments and appliances of the various schools of both the Old and the New World are familiar to and at the command of this staff of doctors, it is reasonable to believe that in ninety cases out of every hundred a cure can be effected, even when the patients have been given up as incurable by doctors who have had less experience. Do not be discouraged because your doctor cannot give you relief, or even if he tells you that you cannot get well, for it matters not what your disease may be, you can consult the doctors free, and, if curable, they will treat you; if incurable, they will give you such advice as will tend to prolong life and afford you the greatest relief.

The doctor will visit Middletown one day each month. Office hours from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

ROGER DRURY'S TREE.

Planted by the Boy, It Furnished the Boards to Make the Man's Coffin.

Fifty years ago Roger Drury of Webster county, Ky., then 10 years old, planted the stone of a cherry that he had eaten on the farm of his father. It took root and in a few years became a prolific tree and was known by the family as "Roger's plant." From year to year the lad collected and sold the product, invariably hoarding the money received, even after he had attained manhood, was married and had children of his own, who aided in the management of the farm bequeathed by his father.

Last summer, in his sixtieth year, Roger Drury's health declined and became seriously impaired, and at the same time the cherry tree manifested unmistakable evidences of decay, when the old man had it cut down and sawed into boards, from which he had his coffin constructed, for utilization when the final summons came. Three weeks ago he was compelled to resort to his bed, when he sent for an undertaker and gave final directions for the coffin's trimmings, expiring shortly afterward. The funeral expenses were defrayed from the fund saved by the sale of the cherries of the tree planted in his boyhood time.—Henderson (Ky.) Correspondent.

Encores C. O. D. Only.

An Italian impresario has discovered a way out of the "encore" difficulty that is not open to the objections made to Mr. Hermann Vezin's proposal that they should be forbidden by the public authorities. The impresario in question controls a small operatic theater in Milan, and he has absolutely forbidden his singers to repeat any of their songs, but at the same time he has placed the following notice in the vestibule: "Those persons who wish for a repetition of any numbers from the opera, or of any part of the [illegible] are begged to hand in their names at the box office. At the end of the performance they will enjoy the encores demanded on paying for their seats over again." Since this measure was first adopted no one has availed himself of the privilege thus granted, and the performances have not been interrupted by demands for encores.—London News.

"I OWE MY LIFE TO YOU."

A Wilton, N. J., Girl's Experience With a Noted Massachusetts Woman.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Life is never more precious than in the heyday of youth, when every dream is a promise, and every thought an inspiration.

It is natural that Miss Gertrude Sickler, a young lady who lives at Wilton, N.J., is grateful for the great boon of life.

She suffered terribly with suppressed and painful menstruations. The doctors could only prevent her from having fits each month by dosing her with morphine.

At last, when she was completely prostrated, her father got her a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which at once gave her relief.

That did what the doctors could not do. It cured her. She has no trouble now, and no dread of the coming month. "I owe my life to you," she writes to Mrs. Pinkham. "Oh, if other suffering women could try your valuable medicine they would bless you as I do."
